Mr. Davis and General Grant

HICKORY GROVE, Prince William co., February 10, 1890. To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette: Sir : Your paper recently contained a letter claimed to have been written by Jefferson Davis, in which General Grant is referred to in a complimentary sort of way, as a man who made war like a gentleman and a soldier, and was never guilty of arson or pillege, or, what is about the same thing, never authorized or encouraged those crimes. I cannot believe that the letter in question was written by Mr. Davis, for although one of the most magnanimous men that ever lived, he was also one of the most truthful. It is difficult to believe that he had forgotten the wholesale perpetration of the crimes mentioned, in the Valley of Virginia, in the fall of 1864. When nearly all of the newspapers between Canada and the Gulf of Mexico were agonizing over the illness of General Sheridan, and most of them giving him credit I for the qualities and virtues of a demi god, distinctly remember seeing the publication of the order, or orders of Grant to Sheridan just prior to that most beinous affair, that to a certain extent exonerated Sheridan and threw the chief responsibility of the crime on Grant. It is true, no one but a brute would have executed such an order, but that does not relieve General Grant of the odium. I have frequently heard men, whose veracity was beyond all question, and who witnessed the facts, speak of the scenes that occurred on that memorable occasion as enough to draw tears from a stone. Helpless women and little children, the aged, the sick and the dying, shivering by the ashes of their homes, without food; even the milch cows that fed the children driven off, or killed, and the people without ciothing except what they had on their backs. In many instances the wearing apparel and bed clothing snatched from the burning house by the desparing inmates seized by the fiends who called themselves soldlers, and either carried off or thrown back into the flames, with threats that if the poor people did not submit and keep quiet they should share the same fate. All this in obedience to Grant's order, "Lay the Valley so utterly waste that a crow in flying over it will have to carry his rations." It is insection to the control of the control credible that Mr. Davis should have forgot ten all this; if so, we must presume he also, forgot what I suppose is a matter of history; at least it came from the highest authority during the war, and I have never heard it contradicted. When Jefferson Davis was Secretary of the War Hiram Ulysses Grant, a tacky 2nd lieutenant in the United States army, was tried by court mar ial and found guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, the penalty for which was dismissal from the service. Secretary Davis, out of the kindness and goodness of his heart

THE OCEAN STEAMER OF THE FUTURE .-This is a sanguine and imaginary writer who describes her in Once a Week. Hear him: She will be over a quarter of a mile in length, and will do the passage from Sandy Hook to Liverpool in thirty six hours, being one night out. She will be driven by electric-ity, and in such a fashion as to keep railroad time, despite of storm or fog. Passengers can be secured by flash photo, "Edison's patent," and the ticket will include an opera stall, or a concert ticket, or a seat in a church pew-the opera house, concert hall, and church being all on board. A covered ring for horse exercise will also be provided, and a racing track for fast trotters. A base-ball ground and tennis courts will also form a portion of the attractions. For business men a stock exchange will be operated, the quotations being posted from the tickers every two minutes on the vibration system. The leading papers of all countries will be reprinted each morning by the electric reflection system. A spacious conservatory, containing the choicest flowers of all climates will afford an agreeable lounging place, and bouquets will be provided gratis. As at Monaco and Monte Carlo, a suite of apartments will be laid out for play, to be kept open all night—a sumptuous supper with costliest wines free. English tailors and shoemakers will be in attendance, and clothes will be made during the passage. The millinery department will contain French fashions of the previous day, and costumes will be confectioned while the ship is en route, and delivered complete on arrival at dock.

allowed Hiram Ulysses to resign his com-mission. In 1865 when President Davis was chained in a dungeon like a wild beast, and treated in the most inhuman manner, General Grant was the most influential per son in the United States. That he ever said a word to mitigate the horrors of the wanton and undeserved punishment has never been suspected. Well, we are commanded not to speak evil of dignitaries; and compari sons are odious. To compare "Hyperion to a Satyr" was hard on the Satyr, but for all that, the truth of history ought to be vin-

Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, for children teething, is the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and haz been used for forty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhea, griping in the bowels and wind-colic. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. Price 25 cents a

Take Simmons Liver Regulator One Dose 100 Dollars

DEAR S. L. R.—FRIENDS: I consider one dose of Simmons' Liver Regulator worth $100. I was constipated, had headache, could eat nothing with satisfaction or appotite; had the blues and felt altogether out of sorts. I resorted to blue mass, calomel, quinne and all remedies suggested, but only obtained temporary relief. One dose of S. L. R. did me more good than the $100 worth of doctors and doctoring. Respectfully, T. C. MARKLEY.

I have been a teacher for twenty years, and during that time have had repeated attacks of headache, produced by torpid liver, and I have been entirely cured by the use of Simmons' Liver Regulator. I found it to be of so mild a character in its action as not to interfere, in the least, with my duties in the school room. To those similarly situated and subject to same, I cannot too highly recommend Simmons' Liver Regulator. E. A. CHEEK, Campbellsville, Ky.
